Dedication

To Morton Craun, who has been a bus driver at Jackson-Liberty for twenty years, we dedicate this annual. He has been more than just a bus driver—he has been a loyal and understanding friend to the many students who have come and gone through the years.

For these students and ourselves, we would like to express our "thanks."

"The Class of 56"

Foreword

While we are somewhat relieved that our last year of high school is just about over, we are a little reluctant to leave, realizing that these have probably been the most carefree days of our lives.

It is my sincere desire that in this volume of Jackson-Liberty school life, many of the happy times have been preserved for the faculty, as well as for the students.

Superintendent

Seniors:

The following are a few thoughts for the class of 1956.

1. Have faith in God, your fellowmen, and yourself.
2. Commencement means to begin learning not to stop.
3. It is better to wear out than to rust out.
4. Great men gave more to the world than they received.
5. Success cannot be purchased, it is earned.

We hope life will be kind and generous to each and every one of you.

—Mr. Fisher

Principal

Seniors:

In a few days you are to receive the diploma given to those who have completed the course of study outlined by your school officials.

My congratulations to each of you for this accomplishment.

In the files of Jackson-Liberty School remains a recorded record of your accomplishments while here. I hope it has been your best effort.

Before you lies an opportunity to apply the knowledge and skills that you have learned here. In writing the remaining chapters of your life your principal wishes you much success. Your Alma Mater stands ever ready to help you. I look to your future with high hopes.

Board of Education

One of the most important positions in our school system is the position of a member of the Board of Education. Although they serve without pay, except for token expense money, they spend many hours in deciding the complex issues that arise in providing the building's equipment, teaching staff, and employees to make good schools in the Jackson-Liberty School District.

To them we give our thanks and hope they will receive some remuneration in seeing the graduates of our school make good use of the education that was received here.

To these men we are extremely grateful for their time and efforts to make our new addition and the rest of the school, one we can be proud of.

We the senior class of 1956, wish to extend a sincere thank you.

Congratulations to the class of '56

To Mrs. Kettler we do will and bequeath twenty-eight more students to charge their lunches.

To Mrs. Stafford we do will and bequeath another interesting English Literature class.

To Mr. Bowersox we do will and bequeath three more basketball players for next year.

To the cooks we do will and bequeath twenty-eight more satisfied stomachs.

To the janitor we do will and bequeath our ability to never have love letters and chewing gum in the halls.

To the cheerleaders we do will and bequeath another roaring pep section.

I, Paula Beckhusen, do will and bequeath my ability to get the family car to Carolyn Perkins.

I, Fred Cessna, do will and bequeath my mischievous actions to Jerald Thallman.

I, Duane Edinger, do will and bequeath my red hair and freckles to Gerald Reidling.

I, Catherine Frisch, do will and bequeath my drawings to next year's art class providing they cherish them as I did.

I, Ray Hatfield, do will and bequeath my ability to play basketball to my brother, Leonard.

I, Harry Hawk, do will and bequeath my Plymouth to Dale Wheeler providing he won't call it names.

I, Carolyn Hinsman, do will and bequeath the editorship of the annual to anyone who likes to work.

I, Lloyd Ingram, do will and bequeath my innocent grin to Tom Nobbs.

I, Diane Kellar, do will and bequeath my pony tail to Judy Kissling.

I, Kaye Kissling, do will and bequeath my patience with the teachers to Beatrice Kellar.

I, Sonja Kissling, do will and bequeath my ability to chew gum to anyone who has the jaws to chew it.

I, Peter LePage, do will and bequeath my ability as Senior Class President to anyone who can bring the class to order.

I, Connie Matthews, do will and bequeath my excess boyfriends to some lonely Junior girl.

I, Lora Lee McNally, do will and bequeath my ability to be majorette and cheerleader at the same time to anyone who can handle them.

I, Evelyn Miller, do will and bequeath the editorship of the Newshound to Darlene Kline.

I, Jeanette Nicholson, do will and bequeath my ability to get a diamond to Sandra Jones.

I, Bill Peeler, do will and bequeath a black eye to anyone who flirts with Bonnie Shultz.

I, Troy Pullins, do will and bequeath my ability to say what I think to Robert Graber.

I, Betty Ritter, do will and bequeath my shortness to Wayne Holman.

I, Donnie Rouser, do will and bequeath my soft voice to Jerry Mullholand.

I, Connie Saum, do will and bequeath my giggle to Lenora Grimes plus her own.

I, Bessie Shaull, do will and bequeath my neatness to anyone who can use it.

I, Nancy Sherick, do will and bequeath my shy and bashful ways to Paulette Huffman.

I, Sandra Slick, do will and bequeath my blond hair to Janet Feasel.

I, Fred Smith, do will and bequeath my Dodge to Tom Kissling if he can keep up the repairs.

I, Howard Stahl, do will and bequeath my ability to daydream in class to Wayne Holman.

I, Jim Stearns, do will and bequeath my blush to Jim Pasch.

I, Richard Woessner, do will and bequeath my height to Jim Williams.

I, Sandra Woodruff, do will and bequeath my ability to go steady with one boy to Becky Decker.

Our last request is that our last will and testament be kept sacred and honorable.

Class Prophecy

In my role as a world traveler and news reporter it was not a surprise to me that my boss, Evelyn Miller, the editor-in-chief of the Amsden Daily Tribune, told me that I was to take a world tour on the new Air Force's guided missile jet carrier. I was to interview the pilot, the famous Fred Cessna, the ace jet fighter pilot. Also along on this flight would be the Commander-in-chief of the Air Force, five-star General Raymond Hatfield. Our paper's ace photographer Don Rouser would go along to take some important pictures.

Before we could make our trip, however, we had to get a check-up for physical fitness. We were assigned to the City Hospital in Amsden, the Hospital where the famous physical therapist, Paula Beckhusen, made her many important and revealing discoveries about cerebral palsy.

On arriving at the hospital we discovered from the head nurse, Bessie Shaull, that our M. D. was to be Doctor Jim Stearns. We were very flattered to have such a famous doctor for it was less than six years ago, in 1970, that Dr. Stearns discovered the cure for that once dreaded disease, cancer.

Assured that we were in excellent health, we hopped into one of the Tribune's helicopters and made our trip to the skyport where our carrier was located. Upon arrival we discovered our hostesses on the trip were to be Nancy Sherick and Connie Saum. Also on board was Carolyn Hinsman, world famous author. Carolyn was to write a log of the flight and perhaps edit a book describing the many details of the trip. To help Miss Hinsman edit her articles and to contribute some ideas of her own was another eminent author, Diane Kellar. Miss Kellar had written the 1975 best selling book, "Who's That A'coming." For the trip these two ladies had borrowed the commercial teacher at Jackson-Liberty High School, Sonja Kissling, the world's fastest typist.

Because of the publicity that this flight warranted we were greeted at the Amsden Skyport by Duane Edinger's big-name band and a large crowd. In this crowd were some of the famous names around Amsden and its suburb Fostoria. There was Troy Pullins, President and founder of the Pullins accounting firm, the largest accounting firm in the nation; Lloyd Ingram, President and chairman of the board of the Gray Printing Company. Also there to send the ship off was Fred Smith, chief executive of Rupp and Smith and Riggs. After several speeches, one from Bill Peeler, president of the Amsden Chamber of Commerce and successful used car dealer, the carrier was ready to take off.

Class Prophecy

Our first stop was in Paris, France, where we were greeted by a large crowd. Although this ship could travel around the world five times non-stop, we were going to make stops on this trip because it was a public-minded project. While in Paris we were taken, amid cheers of Vive le Fred Cessna and Vive le General Hatfield, to hear the famous singer and movie actress Lora Lee McNally. We also stopped and saw the exhibits of the illustrious artist, Cathy Frisch. While in Paris, we also met the Commander-in-chief of NATO, General of the Army Howard Stahl and his chief aid and successor General Richard Woessner.

We made several stops after leaving Paris. In Geneva, Switzerland, we met the famous diplomat and first woman Secretary of State, the former Connie Matthews and her husband. Also in Geneva was Betty Ritter and her husband. Betty runs the hotel where all the diplomats sleep when they visit Switzerland. This is supposedly the largest hotel in the world.

After visiting several more of the large cities in Europe and Asia we started back toward the U. S. via the huge Pacific. We came in over Mexico and were traveling over the Lone Star State when all of a sudden the carrier gave a lurch and the jet engines stopped. Not all the bugs had been taken out of this new ship and unless someone did something quick we would crash land. We were told to fasten our safety belts and be prepared for a bumpy landing. Luckily below us was the largest single tract of land I have ever seen. Why it must have been 5,000 acres and only one group of buildings in the whole area! We landed safely about 100 yards from these buildings, when who should come out but Harry Hawk. We had landed on Harry's ranch, the largest ranch in the world. That night we ate dinner at Harry's house. We were served by his 50 servants supervised by his beautiful blonde wife. Later that evening we went to various homes in Houston, Texas, about 20 miles from Harry's Ranch, to spend the night. We stayed in the home of Sandra Woodruff, the wife of a large businessman in Houston, at the home of Jeanette Nicholson, also the wife of a prominent figure in Houston's business world; in the home of the woman mayor of Houston, Kaye Kissling; and in the home of Sandra Slick, the wife of an eminent doctor.

The next morning we completed our journey by returning to Amsden in one of Mr. Hawk's private airplanes.

Don had taken some good pictures and all in all it was a very interesting and rewarding trip. We were glad to see that so many of the 1956 graduating class from Jackson-Liberty had done so well.

This Is Your Life

This is Mr. Shaw as we know him today, an inspiration and friend to all. To Elmer E. Shaw we all owe a great deal of gratitude which we would like to express through this special tribute. Yes, Mr. Shaw, "This Is Your Life."

Elmer E. Shaw was born December 4, 1896, in Jackson Township, to John and Ola Shaw.

He has one brother, Harold, and two sisters, Hazel and Carman, all deceased.

Mr. Shaw attended elementary school in Jackson township and went on to graduate from Fostoria High School in 1915. He then attended Ohio State University and taught one year at Craun School.

In 1918 he served our country with the 95th division of the cavalry unit.

After the service, in 1919 he married Laura (Coppus) Shaw.

He began teaching as an elementary teacher at Jackson-Liberty in 1922 and pictured here is one of his first classes.

For about 14 years, starting after he was married, he lived on a farm in Jackson-Township where he not only farmed, but taught school and drove bus.

He then moved to Amsden and lived there for about 14 years.

In 1939 Mr. Shaw graduated from Ohio State University where he received his B. S. in Education.

He has also attended Bowling Green State University, Heidelberg College and the University of Chicago.

Also in 1939, Mr. Shaw became principal of our high school.

He has served our school faithfully in the capacity of grade and high school principal, grade and high school teacher, and bus driver.

His total service amounts to 34 years which started when Jackson Township built one of the first consolidated schools in Seneca County, here, near Amsden, in 1922.

He is the father of two daughters—Mrs. Jean Flack, a graduate of Jackson-Liberty and attended Heidelberg and Bowling Green State University, now residing in Maumee and Mrs. Joan Gillespie a graduate of Jackson-Liberty and attended Bowling Green State University also, now residing in Bowling Green, and one son, Bob, who is a graduate of Fostoria High School and is attending Ohio Wesleyan University.

He is also the proud grandfather of four boys and one girl.

This year the P. T. A. was unable to sponsor any School Fair or Minstrel as they had in the past due to the building program which was underway. Attendance, however, at all the meetings was very good and everyone co-operated willingly in any way they could.

During the week prior to the November election they sponsored a campaign concerning the renewal of the five mill levy by sending out letters to each voter in the community. The Association also bought the reading circle books for the school.

Direct contact, during a fund raising campaign, was made with the community by a committee of men and women selected from each section of the district. This was carried on in order to increase our treasury since we were unable to sponsor any other type of money raising project. This too was successful.

At Christmas time Rehobeth Church opened their doors for the Christmas program under the able direction of Miss Betty Huff. A musical program featuring the grade and high school students and the J-L Band comprised the program climaxed by the timely arrival of Santa Claus who had treats for all the children. The church was filled to overflowing. We extend our thanks to Rehobeth for their hospitality.

Since we weathered this year with its inconvenience, we feel assured that the organization will continue on the path of progress and will always be willing to help in any way it can to further the relationships of parents, teachers, and all who believe in the education of our youth in helping to build a better community in which to live.

Student Council

The Student Council has been a part of our administration for 18 years. We feel that this organization adds a great deal to our school system by giving the students an opportunity to share the responsibilities of administration, and to undertake projects to better our school.

This year we sponsored the most profitable magazine campaign in the history of our organization. The money from these sales was used to put on the Athletic Banquet, which was held in April and to undertake a project for the benefit of our new school.

We also paid the fees required for the Senior Scholarship Tests and expenses connected with the Honor Society. Other customary duties include: purchase and decoration of the Christmas Tree, election of cheerleaders, approval of class budgets, and the never to be forgotten Freshman Initiation.

The Belle of The West

Some years before the play begins, Ida Goodwin was courted by Alan Miller in a town back East. But Ida preferred Stanley Brown and became his wife. Heartbroken, Alan went West and was never heard of again.

Stanley Brown was a barber and to help out and make ends meet, Ida learned the barber trade, the shop being in their dwelling. Several years later, Stanley died and Ida tried running the shop alone but failed, so she sold out.

About this time Ida read an advertisement in an Eastern City newspaper. The ad had been inserted by one Speedy Summers of Roarin' Creek, Idaho. He desired a manager for his hotel, preferring someone who could run his barber shop as a sideline. So Ida answered the ad, signing her name I. M. Brown, with no mention of her sex. She is engaged and in due time arrived in Roarin' Creek.

Naturally, Speedy was expecting a man and when a young and pretty woman arrived, consternation reigned supreme.

Speedy is a widower and his cook and general housekeeper, Boise Bess, had run the hotel into dirt, decay, and debt. The barber shop had never been a paying proposition, for the gentry of Roarin' Creek were never overly fastidious regarding their personal appearance, and resented anyone who tried to change their habits.

With the advent of the young, pretty, and charming Ida, however, every man in town develops an overwhelming desire to be shaved, massaged, manicured, and trimmed, and everyone of them falls madly in love with Ida. Even the hard-boiled Sure-Shot Sam, the gambler, is her devoted slave.

But Boise Bess, the housekeeper becomes her enemy for as Ida cleans up the hotel, she also cleans up the slovenly and untidy Bess, who has always cherised the hope of becoming the second Mrs. Speedy Summers. Every girl in town resents Ida because of the attentions their swains shower on the new barber. So the girls hold an indignation meeting and decide to dress up and become "citified" to win back their errant boyfriends. The results can well be imagined.

Then Ida meets Alan. He has migrated to Roarin' Creek, where he had bought a large tract of land and is back in the hills working a claim. He has heard of the pretty young widow who is the new barber and he decides to come to town to get shaved, never dreaming that the barber is his former sweetheart from back East. When they meet, both realize there is still a spark of the old flame burning, but matters are complicated by a fiery Spanish girl, Carmen, who Alan has been "settin' up to." The enraged Carmen even makes an attempt on Ida's life which Alan fouls. In the end, however, Carmen realizes she has lost Alan to Ida and in gallant gesture gives him up.

Alan and Ida decide to marry and settle down in Roarin' Creek. This is heartily approved by all, especially the men, provided Ida will continue running the barber shop for "she's the best danged barber we ever had in these parts."

Miss Huff worked for weeks with the students under very unsatisfactory conditions, because of construction on the new building. We feel it was well worth our efforts after being such a hit for two nights. The operetta is entirely different than any we have given, taking place out West in an old run-down hotel lobby. As the play progresses, not only the hotel lobby becomes very modern, but also there is a great change in all of the characters.

We have found that time, co-operation, effort, hard work, and lots of fun are the main factors in producing a fine operetta.

This is Miss Huff's fifth year at Jackson-Liberty and as always, a very successful one even under difficult conditions due to construction.

She has successfully directed the high school operetta, increased the band and prepared them for various parades and all-county activities. She has given private lessons and aided music contestants in achieving winning honors in the contests, and has always been willing to provide programs for various activities.

We wish to express our thanks to her for sacrificing her time and abilities, but most of all for making the Jackson-Liberty music department one of the most outstanding in Seneca County.

The Jackson-Liberty Band consisting of fifty members is an organization that has been very active this year. During the summer months we played at the Attica Fair, Seneca County Fair and several Ice Cream Socials. The day of the Seneca County Fair we were chosen from all the bands that played that afternoon to play in the grandstand that evening.

In October we marched in two Halloween Parades. The first one was on the 29th, at Risingsun where the band looked sharp and played very snappy music. Many compliments were received that night. On the 31st we played in Fostoria.

This year we participated in the Christmas Parade in Fostoria, afternoon and evening. It was a cold, cold day, so after the first parade we had a party at the school. On December 3 we played at the Christmas Parade in Tiffin.

During basketball season we had some time, for we had to practice at Hopewell or Risingsun, however, the students and parents were very cooperative and we had many good times going to and from practice. We played at almost all our home games and received many compliments on our floor formations. The Band Boosters sold programs and tickets on cakes at each home game.

Everyone, including parents, students, and band director have worked hard this year to make our band a big hit.

J-L Jazz Band

FIRST ROW: Jerry Bowersox, Miss Huff, Kay Yoakum, Pete LePage, Gerald Reidling.
SECOND ROW: Darlene Kline, Paula Beckhusen.
THIRD ROW: Sue Compton, Betty Shultz.

These nine snappy members have had a lot of fun together this year. The most fun was the night of the Sophomore Halloween Party in Gail Ecker's Barn. The jazz band played for the students to dance. The night before we practiced in the barn and what a time keeping the cats away.

This is the first year for this group and we hope to be better organized and to play for many more events by next year.

Clarinet Quartet

LEFT TO RIGHT: Sue Compton, Frances Kettler, Miss Huff, Darlene Kline, Sandra Jones.

These four outstanding girls in the music department have done remarkably well to date in the music contests. They entered the Music Clinic in the spring and received a I rating in the Quartet. Sandra and Sue received a Superior I rating on individual solos and Darlene and Frances an Excellent II rating. This is Sue's first year in the Quartet and as you can see by her solo rating she is doing an excellent job.

These four girls always have more fun keeping their clarinets in shape. Ask Frances what happened to her reed just before we played for the judge at the Clinic!

This is Mrs. Stafford's first year here and she has proved to be a great asset to our school. She has directed all our class plays and instructed the individuals who took part in Individual Events and Prince of Peace.

The students of Jackson-Liberty wish to extend their sincere appreciation for the assistance and co-operation she has given us during the past year.

The Bishop .....Peter Le Page
The Convict .....Fred Smith
Persomé (the Bishop's sister, a widow).....
Gail Ecker
Marie .....Ruth Edinger
Sergeant of Gendarmes .....James Steinmetz
Gendarme .....Don Rouser

The play takes place in the Bishop's cottage, which is plainly but substantially furnished. On the mantelpiece are two silver candlesticks which look strangely out of place. Everything that the Bishop and his widowed sister once had has been sold to provide someone else with food, shelter, or clothing. Then one day a convict forces himself into their lives, making them give him food, shelter, and protection from the police.

During the night the convict leaves with the candlesticks, is picked up by the police and is brought back to the cottage where the Bishop, feeling that he had subjected the convict to temptation, explains that he had given the candlesticks to his friend (the convict). The police leave and the Bishop helps a changed man find freedom and a new life.

Although this is Wayne's first year as a regular varsity player he is surely proving himself capable of handling that ball. His height and calmness will be a great asset again next year.

Jackson-Liberty Joins Select 100 Point Circle

They say when two arch rivals meet anything can happen and this fact was sure born out at Bettsville last night when the Jackson-Liberty Bullpups turned on the steam and when the smoke had cleared they had humiliated Bettsville, 101 to 33. From the first quarter on one could sense that the Pups were out to establish some kind of a record at the expense of the Bulldogs.

With Larry Hedden pumping them in from in front and big Ray Hatfield hitting from the side Bettsville was beside themselves. ...ese two sharpies were ...ne Holman, P... Bullpups Take Lead In Seneca County League

Over a thousand rabbid basketball fans jammed the Fostoria High gymnasium Saturday night to see the Jackson-Liberty Bullpups take the lead in the Seneca County League race by blasting Old Fort 58-42. The victory was the Pups seventh straight in the league and their fourteenth against one loss. It was Old Fort's first league loss and their fourth against ten wins.

The Jackson five, out to win their first title since 1931, will meet another strong challenger Friday night when they travel to Bascom to tangle with Hopewell-Loudon. The Amsden club will be out to avenge the only blemish on their eighteen game schedule, an early season 58-56 non-league loss.

After a slow first period, the Jackson five forged ahead 11-10 at the quarter's end. By halftime they had upped the count to 26-22 as both teams played on even terms. Several quick baskets following the intermission gave the Pups a ten point lead. However, the Stockaders full court press kept them within striking distance with the count 39-33 entering the final heat.

Taking advantage of Old Fort's fouling. Ken Bowersox's basketeers pulled away in the final period for a well deserved victory. ACHIEVEMENTS

J-L's basketball achievements for this year have been many. The team received two trophies, one for being highest in league competition, and one for being runner-up in tournament.

The cheerleaders received a trophy for first place in Seneca County.

Individuals who received recognition were Ray Hatfield for being high-point man in the county and Peter LePage received the Huffman sportsmanship award.

We are proud of these students and the fine work they have done this year.
